VI. READING COMPREHENSION (Questions 33–36)

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

In many Vietnamese villages, traditional festivals are an important part of community life. These festivals are usually held to celebrate historical events, honour ancestors or express gratitude for a successful harvest.

One well-known example is the Harvest Festival. In the past, it was a special occasion for farmers to celebrate the end of the farming season. People gathered together, prepared traditional food and took part in folk games. Children often enjoyed activities such as lantern parades and traditional performances.

Nowadays, although modern life has changed many aspects of village life, these festivals remain meaningful. They help younger generations understand their cultural roots and develop a
