My new life!

My name is Tom. I'm from Detroit in the USA, but now I live in Tokyo, Japan.

Life here is very different from the USA. We get up at 6 a.m. every day. I go to school by bus. In Detroit I can walk to school. School here in Japan starts at 8.30 a.m. and finishes at 3.30 p.m. We have lunch in the classroom – rice, fish, meat, fruit. We play football six or seven afternoons a week. There are often matches at the weekend. I have dinner with my parents at 8 p.m. After dinner, I do my homework, and I usually go to bed late. I am always tired!

In Detroit, I feel more relaxed. I go swimming, and I like playing video games with my friends at the weekend. I don't have much free time here in Japan, and I don't play games, but I chat online with my grandparents in Detroit. I don't call them. And I message my friends in the USA on social media.

Sometimes, I'm worried about my lessons, but I never feel bored or unhappy. I'm excited to be here.
