Reading Activity: Learning English in the Digital Age (Level: B1)

Instructions: Read the text carefully and complete the three exercises below.

Reading Passage

In the past, learning a new language usually meant sitting in a classroom with a heavy textbook and a paper dictionary. Today, digital tools have completely changed how students practice English. With a smartphone or a laptop, learners can access podcasts, interactive videos, and online articles from anywhere in the world.

One of the biggest advantages of technology is immediate feedback. When students complete an online quiz or an interactive worksheet, they can see their mistakes right away and try again. This helps them build confidence and learn at their own pace. Furthermore, watching short videos with subtitles allows learners to connect spoken words with their written form, which improves both listening and reading skills at the same time.

However, using technology also requires discipline. Notifications from social media and games can easily distract students during study time. To get the best results, learners should set clear goals, choose reliable educational platforms, and practice for at least twenty minutes every day.
