PANDAS

Pandas are big, black and white animals. They live in China. They are bears, but they are very calm. They live in forests and mountains.
Pandas eat a lot of bamboo. They eat for many hours every day. Sometimes, they also eat fruit or small plants. They do not eat meat. They live alone, not in groups.
Pandas are good climbers, but they move slowly. They sleep a lot. Baby pandas are very small and pink when they are born. They grow fast and stay with their mothers for a long time.
Many people love pandas because they are cute and peaceful. They are special animals, but they are also in danger of extinction, and they need protection. There are not many pandas in the world today. Many people work to help them, for example, they protect bamboo forests where pandas live.
