The Honest Woodcutter

Once upon a time, a poor woodcutter lived in a small village near a river. Every day, he went to the forest to cut wood.

One afternoon, while he was working beside the river, his old axe slipped from his hands and fell into the water.

The woodcutter felt very sad. "Oh no! My axe is gone. How can I work now?" he cried.

Suddenly, a kind fairy appeared. She showed him a golden axe and asked, "Is this yours?"

The woodcutter answered, "No, it is not mine."

Then, she showed him a silver axe. Again, he said, "No. My axe is only an old iron one."

Finally, the fairy brought his old iron axe. The woodcutter smiled and said, "Yes, that is my axe. Thank you!"

The fairy was pleased with his honesty and gave him all three axes as a reward. The woodcutter went home happily.
