A Heritage Tour in San Salvador de Jujuy

Yesterday, a group of international tourists visited the historic center of San Salvador de Jujuy.

First, the local community guide welcomed the visitors near the Plaza Belgrano. Then, the group entered the Juan Galo Lavalle Museum. The guide explained the history of the old colonial house and showed old weapons and historical relics. After that, the tourists walked to the Lola Mora Cultural Center to observe the majestic white marble statues. Finally, the visitors took photos and enjoyed the artistic heritage of Jujuy.

To protect our cultural heritage, the guide gave important instructions: "You should wear a sun hat and drink water during the walk. You must respect historical relics, and you mustn't touch the museum objects or leave plastic waste on the floor."
