I recently experienced ¹*one of the most silent / the most silent / some very silent* nights of my life. I was visiting friends in Riyadh and they suggested going out to the desert. We left the city at dusk and the ²*furthest / further / far* we went, the ³*darker / darkest / more dark* it got. After about two hours, we arrived at the camp and pitched our tent. It was ⁴*considerably / not nearly as / nowhere near* colder than I had expected but the view was stunning. All I could hear was my own breathing as I looked at ⁵*the more / the really / the most* amazing sky. The stars were ⁶*much / more / almost as* clearer and ⁷*much / more / too* numerous than I had ever experienced. That night, I definitely felt ⁸*not any / significantly / almost* more aware of the size of the universe.
