

- 1 Complete the sentences using the correct form of the verbs in brackets.

Example

Next week the weather _____ will be _____ (be) mostly bright and sunny.

- 1 If you don't practise, you _____
(not pass) your music exams.
- 2 If you want me to, I _____ (pay) for the meal.
- 3 I've lost my tennis racket. Don't worry,
I _____ (lend) you mine.
- 4 Someone might steal your mobile if you _____ (leave) it in your car.
- 5 Soon, there _____ (be) more computers than people in the USA.
- 6 We'll win the match if we _____
(not make) a mistake.
- 7 If they don't listen to the teacher, they _____ (learn) nothing.
- 8 In the future, perhaps people _____
(not have) enough water.
- 9 When the oil runs out, what _____ people _____ (use)?

MARK ____ / 9

- 2 Make sentences using the present continuous form of the verbs in brackets.

Example

Pete _____ is meeting _____ his girlfriend at the cinema at 6 o'clock. (meet)

- 1 Sally _____ to the concert tomorrow.
(go)
- 2 Dan _____ until 9 o'clock today. (work)
- 3 We _____ to our new house next week. (move)
- 4 I _____ a room with my sister on holiday. (not share)
- 5 We _____ my grandparents on Sunday.
(visit)
- 6 Kelly _____ at the Grand Hotel. (stay)
- 7 Fiona and Ray _____ to Spain for their holidays. (fly)

MARK ____ / 7

- 3 Label the pictures.

1 _____

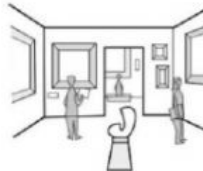

2 _____

3 _____

4 _____

5 _____

6 _____

MARK ____ / 6

- 4 Match the things or people in 1–10 to what they do in a–k.

Example

bees

- 1 cheerleader
- 2 designer
- 3 builder
- 4 receptionist
- 5 eyelids
- 6 body clock
- 7 optician
- 8 pests
- 9 hormones
- 10 plumber

- a eat plants we use for food
- b makes houses, for example
- c encourages American football teams
- d looks after our eyes
- e pollinate flowers
- f decides how things should look and work
- g makes appointments
- h controls our waking and
sleeping time
- i we close our eyes with these
- j works with things connected with water
- k control the way the body
works

MARK ____ / 10

- 5 Read the text about insects. Are the statements true (T) or false (F)?

My pet's an insect!

- It sounds strange to many of us, but if you are Japanese this might be true. In most of Asia, insects are often thought to make good pets. In Western cultures, people do keep insects as pets, but this is often to do with a school project. For example, school children are often asked to catch caterpillars, and put them in a jar with some cabbage leaves, so they can observe them until they change into beautiful butterflies.
- The main problem with having an insect as a pet is that they are hard to relate to. You can talk to a dog, a cat, a parrot or even a hamster, and perhaps even get them to do some tricks that you can teach them, but being friends with insects is just impossible. Nor can you cuddle or stroke them. On the one hand they are very fragile: you could easily kill or damage them if you handle them at all. And, on the other hand, touching an insect can be dangerous. Many of them can bite or sting you and in this way inject poison into your body, leading to illness or even death. This doesn't always put people off. There are people who keep poisonous tarantula spiders, although it is extremely dangerous and in some places illegal.
- With all these problems, it might seem surprising that insect pets are popular anywhere. But there can be benefits to keeping an insect as a pet. Some insects make beautiful sounds. Singing crickets are popular in Asian countries, and not just for their voice. They are used like guard dogs. If a burglar enters the house at night, the cricket stops singing and this wakes the family up.

Example

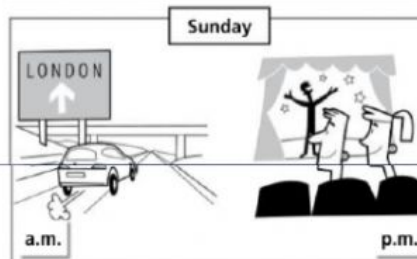

Keeping insects is quite popular in Japan. T

- 1 Teachers often ask children to keep insects. ____
- 2 Insects can do tricks. ____
- 3 You should avoid lifting insects in your hand. ____
- 4 Some insect bites can kill. ____
- 5 It is always against the law to have a tarantula as a pet. ____
- 6 Keeping insects as pets has no advantages. ____
- 7 Asian people like to keep singing crickets only because they sing so well. ____
- 8 A singing cricket is a kind of burglar alarm. ____

MARK ____ / 8

Writing

- 6 Look at the pictures. They show your plans for the weekend. Write a letter to a friend telling him what you are going to do this weekend.

MARK ____ / 10

TOTAL ____ / 50