SPRING

IDIOMS

Study these idioms and their meanings.

spring into action

used for saying that something is done quickly and with energy or force under the sun

used for emphasizing that something includes a very wide range of things

a happy bunny

someone who is satisfied with a situation

no spring chicken

to be rather old

busy bee

someone who is always busy

a good egg

a good or reliable person put all your eggs in one basket to depend completely on just one plan so that you have no other possibilities if things go wrong

a spring in someone's step used for saying someone looks as if they are happy and full of energy

black sheep

someone who is not approved of by their family or group because they are thought to behave badly

the grass is (always) greener on the other side life seems better somewhere else

Idioms definitions provided by www.macmillandictionary.com

©2015 Macmillan Education

macmillan education

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Drag the phrase into the correct sentence.

no spring chicken	the grass is greener on the other side	a good egg	a spring in her step	a happy bunny springs into action	busy bee	black sheep	putting all my eggs in one basket	under the sun

1. I've tried everything _____ on this stain but I just can't get rid of it.
2. As soon as the boss comes in the door, everyone _____ and tries to look busy.
3. I just got a pay raise, so I'm _____ today.
4. That actress is _____, but she does a pretty good job of playing a twenty-year-old girl in the film.
5. Can we meet next week instead? I'm working on three projects and I'm a _____ right now.
6. Joey's a _____ - he always makes time to help others in need.
7. I applied to several colleges so I'm not _____.
8. Tammy's been walking with _____ since she found out she's getting a promotion.
9. Everyone likes me because I'm so quiet and obedient. The same cannot be said of my cousin, who's been the _____ since we were kids.
10. 'They have the perfect life, always travelling and spending time together.'
    'Hey, _____. I'm sure they have their own problems we can't see.'

LIVEWORKSHEETS