READING

A PHONE CALL FROM CANCUN

Read the text below and write the meaning of the words in bold.

Bob: Hello, Jim? This is Bob

Jim: Bob? What time is it?

Bob: It's nine o'clock.

Jim: What? It's eleven o'clock here! Where are you?

Bob: We're in Cancun.

Jim: Oh, right, you're on vacation. So, how's the weather there?

Bob: Terrible! It's cold and windy, and it's raining cats and dogs! We can't go to the beach, we can't swim... it's horrible. The kids are playing cards, and my wife is reading a magazine, but we're all miserable. It's particularly difficult for the kids, Jamie is ten, and Brittany is only eight.

Jim: Well, here's an idea. My cousin is a travel agent, and she's there in Cancun. She can get tickets for other activities.

Bob: For example?

Jim: Well, you can see the ballet folkloric. And maybe you can visit places near of Cancun, like Tulum and Chichen itza. Her number is 671- 9270

Bob: Okay. Can she speak English?

Jim: She's American. Of course, she can speak English

Bob: Great. Well, thanks for your help.

Jim: No problem. Talk to you later.
