

In the following interview with Sylvia Earle, one of the world's best known marine scientists some questions have been removed. Your task is to match the questions and the answers (1-7). There is an extra question that you do not need.

0) Where did you grow up?

My personal beginning was in south Jersey on a little farm. My parents moved to Florida when I was 12 and my backyard was the Gulf of Mexico.

1) _____

The best scientists and explorers have the attributes of kids! They have a sense of wonder. They have curiosity. Who, what, where, why, when, and how?! I never stop asking questions just like a five year old.

2) _____

Going under water... Saving the ocean... Being a fish... I would love to slip into the skin of a fish and know what it's like to be one. They have senses that I can only dream about.

3) _____

Of course! And my family has always stood by me.

4) _____

It's always the next place. And I love to go back to the places I have known over the years.

5) _____

The ocean is the cornerstone of our life support system and the cornerstone of the ocean's life support system is life in the ocean.

6) _____

Don't take "no" for an answer and find out what you want to do and then find a way to make it happen. You can spend many lifetimes fulfilling the dreams of others. But if you have a dream of your own, don't wait. Just find a way to make that dream come true.

7) _____

I rarely go anywhere without a camera. I am not a photographer, but taking photographs helps me to remember and to document. Oh, and a bathing suit.
