

LISTENING ACTIVITY : DESCRIBING PEOPLE (2)

Listen to two students talking about the teachers at their college. Fill in the gaps.

Jenny: How was your first day back at college, Philip?

Philip: Not bad. The teachers seem OK.

Jenny: Which teachers do you have?

Philip: Well, for maths I have Mr... er... Oh, I can't remember his name. Older guy.

1. _____, beard.

Jenny: Mr Willis?

Philip: No, not him. Mr Willis doesn't have a beard.

Jenny: He has a 2. _____.

Philip: Yeah, but my maths teacher has a 3. _____ and a moustache. What's his name - oh yes I know. Mr Parker. That's it.

Jenny: Oh right. I have Mr Johnson for maths.

Philip: Who's he?

Jenny: He's a young-ish guy, with brown hair down to his shoulders. He has a bit of a beard and a moustache too.

Philip: Oh, I think I remember seeing him around. I thought he was a student.

Jenny: Don't be silly. He's far too 4. _____ to be a student. Who else do you have?

Philip: I have Mrs Amos for Physics.

Jenny: Is that the tall black lady? 5. _____ - _____?

Philip: No, you're thinking of Mrs King. No, Mrs Amos is... well, she's got sort of 6. _____, straight and quite long, and a 7. _____.

Jenny: Oh yes. I know who you mean. Quite a smiley woman. She seems nice. And who do you have for Economics?

Philip: Er... oh I can't remember her name either. A young woman, 8. _____.

Jenny: Miss Tully? She doesn't do Economics. She teaches French.

Philip: Not Ms Tully. Ms Tully's hair isn't that long. It only goes as far as her shoulders. My Economics teacher's hair goes right down her back. And she doesn't wear glasses either. What's her name again?

Jenny: Oh - I know who you mean. Miss Wood!

Philip: That's right. Miss Wood. And I have Mr Joseph for English.

Jenny: Is that the 9. _____?

Philip: Yes, that's right. He's good. He's funny. Who else do you have?

Jenny: Er... I have Mr Chandler for Geography - do you know him? He has 10. _____, he's quite young. He's really enthusiastic!

Philip: No, I don't think I've seen him.

Jenny: And I have Mrs Brighthouse for Psychology. Do you know her? Older lady, with 11. _____ and glasses. She's quite serious, but her lessons are really interesting.

Philip: Oh yes, I've seen her around.
