

Materia: Inglés

Colegio: I. S. I.

Curso: 4to año

Tema de la clase: Gramática en contexto: verbos modales (obligación/ prohibición/ sugerencia)

Modal verbs of obligation, prohibition and advice

Book page: 86

Watch the video

Flipped classroom: watch the grammar presentation video.

Teachers must correct tests and exams.

Teachers have to know their subject well.

Teachers mustn't allow students to cheat in exams.

Teachers should arrive at school on time.

They shouldn't be late.

Teachers don't have to wear a uniform.

HAVE TO:

Obligations: things that it's obligatory or necessary to do

MUST:

Obligations

DON'T HAVE TO:

Say that something is not obligatory or necessary. Optional:

MUSTN'T:

Prohibitions: things that you can't do

SHOULD AND SHOULDN'T:

Recommendations: to give advice, to talk about things that it's important to do, or not to do

After modal verbs we use the infinitive:

Teachers have to know their subject well.

They must correct their students' work and exams.

Usually they don't have to wear a uniform.

They mustn't allow students to cheat in exams.

They should arrive at school on time.

They shouldn't be late.

1. Look at the sentences

- a. You don't have to have any qualifications to be a rickshaw driver.
- b. But you have to be fit and strong.
- c. Shop assistants should treat their customers well.
- d. I mustn't tell them who I really am.
- e. You must check all the equipment very carefully.
- f. Some say that we shouldn't be on the streets because we're dangerous.

2. Which sentence(s) express

1. obligation?

2. no obligation?

3. prohibition?

4. advice or a recommendation?

What type of word comes after must, mustn't, should, shouldn't, have to, don't have to?

SPEAKING (Zoom class)

3. Use should and shouldn't to give advice to these people. Use the pictures to help you. Write one sentence with should or shouldn't for each picture

1

2

3

1 I want to be a tour guide.
You should ...

2 I want to be a chef.
You should ...

3 I want to be a doctor.
You should ...

4 I want to be a scientist.
You shouldn't ...

4. Choose the correct alternative. If you think both alternatives are correct, choose both.

1. You learn to play an instrument if you want to be a professional musician.
2. Builders work in an office.
3. Doctors tell secrets about their patients' health.
4. Do you wear a uniform in your job?
5. People who work in banks do a lot of paperwork.
6. A firefighter work in a team.
7. An architect be fit to do his or her job.
8. My sister must with the public in her job.

5. Rewrite each sentence using a modal verb of obligation, prohibition or advice.

1. It is not necessary to have experience to do the job.

You .

2. It is obligatory for builders to wear hard hats here.

Builders .

3. It is a good idea for Frank to work in the summer.

Frank .

4. In our school, teachers are not allowed to wear jeans.

In our school, .

5. It isn't a good idea to wear very informal clothes for a job interview.

You .

6. It is not obligatory for our receptionists to speak French.

Our receptionists .

7. It is essential for Karen to be calm in her job.

Karen .