GRAMMAR

INDEFINITE COMPOUNDS

someone	somebody	something	somewhere
anyone	anybody	anything	anywhere
no one	nobody	nothing	nowhere
everyone	everybody	everything	everywhere

A) COMPLETE THE SENTENCES WITH A SUITABLE INDEFINITE COMPOUND.

1. There was .... I knew at the party. I was surrounded by strangers.
2. Fortunately most of my friends accepted my invitation, so nearly ....
   will be here at my party!
3. Let's go ....! I'm so fed up with sitting at home all the time!
4. I heard ....coming down the stairs, but I couldn't see who it was.
5. I feel so sorry for you. Is there .... I can do to help you?
6. I can't find my purse. Is there ....in your coat pocket?
7. You can sit ....you want. There are no seat numbers.
8. There are bugs ....this room! It's disgusting!
9. There's ....wrong about the data. I checked it myself it's OK.
10. Does .... mind if I open the window?

B) CHOOSE THE RIGHT COMPOUND TO COMPLETE THE TEXT.

I was all alone at home and it was late at night. My parents had gone to the cinema, yet I stayed at home and had anything / nothing to do. I wanted to watch TV but I couldn't find the remote control anywhere / nowhere. As I was looking for it, suddenly I heard something / anything as if no one / someone was trying to get in. I started to panic and shouted: "Is there everybody / anybody out there?" There was no answer, but I could still hear the noise. There was someone / nobody near me to help. I was shaking and tried to reach the phone while I was trying to recall *everything / anything I learnt about emergency situations before. This was definitely one! I was on the verge of fainting when my attacker began to bark in front of the door. I'd never been happier in my life.