CONJUNCTIONS

AND is used to join two events

- The subject of the event is the same

  Example.: He sat down and had lunch.

- The subject of the event is different, we put a comma before and.

  Ex.: She got up, and he cooked breakfast.

- Sheila is very kind and is my friend. (we expect the second idea)

BUT is used to connect events when we do not expect the second event.

- When the subject of the event is the same, we don't repeat the subject.
  They ran but missed the train.
- When the subject of the events is different, we put a comma before but.
  Julia can drive, but Sonia can't
- Lucy was very tall but she wasn't nice. (we don't expect the second idea)

Complete the sentences with AND or BUT. (sometimes both are possible)

1.-I like apples ..... I don't like bananas.

2.-I love Italian food ..... I eat pasta every day.

3.-They are from Erzincan .....they didn't go there before.

4.-Helen bought an iPod ..... she didn't use it.

5.-Mary loves swimming ..... she often goes to the pool.

6.-He hasn't got much money ..... he goes to a good school.

7.-He doesn't look very strong ..... he can lift 100kg.

8.-You were very tired ..... you enjoyed at the party.

9.-Tom wasn't very happy ..... he came to the festival.

10.-Gerald has never been to China ..... he speaks Chinese.

11.-My mother parked the car ..... entered the chemist.

12.-Lina can cook ..... her brother can't.

13.-It was raining ..... it wasn't cold.

14.- My grandfather grows lettuces ..... he never eats them.

15.- Steve loves plants ..... he doesn't like animals.

LIVEWORKSHEETS