PAST TENSES

I. Complete with the past simple or the past progressive of the verbs in brackets.

It's a small world

Last summer, while I _____ (BE) on holiday in Rome, something strange _____ (HAPPEN), which _____ (MAKE) me realise how small the world is. I _____ (FEEL) hungry so I _____ (DECIDE) to go and have a nice meal at a nice restaurant. While I _____ (LOOK) at the menu, I _____ (NOTICE) two young women staring at me. I _____ (FIND) it quite rude but I _____ (NO SAY) anything.

After a few minutes, a waitress _____ (COME) over and _____ (TAKE) my order. About ten minutes later, as she _____ (BRING) me my meal, one of the women _____ (CALL) her to their table and _____ (TELL) something. Then the waitress _____ (WALK) over to my table and _____ (INFORM) me that my meal was going to be paid for by the women. As I _____ (WALK) over to ask them who they _____ (BE) and why they _____ (BUY) me lunch, one of them _____ (STAND) up and said: "Ms Smith, it's me, Alice from year 6. Do you remember me?" I _____ (NOT CAN) believe it.

Little Alice was all grown up!

II. Choose a, b, c or d

3) I knew that I _____ staying up late the night before the exam. I was so tired the next morning that I couldn't concentrate.

- a) would regret
- b) was regretting
- c) regretted
- d) had regretted

4) _____ the match already _____ by the time you arrived at the stadium.

- b) had been volunteering
- c) was volunteering
- d) was going to volunteer

III. Read the text and choose the correct alternative.

Some people put the good of the community before their own. One such example is Mr White.

Mr White worked / had been working at Kingley Secondary School for twenty years when disaster struck / had struck one Sunday last March: the school burnt / would burn down because of an electrical failure. Mr White had complained / was going to complain several times about the state the school was in, but nobody was going to listen / had listened.

The nearest schools were kilometres away and one thing seemed / had seemed certain: the children's education would suffer / suffered. Mr White was very stressed because he tried / had been trying to find an alternative solution for days. Then on Wednesday afternoon, it came / had been coming to him.

He thought / had thought that it had been / would be a good idea to continue lessons somewhere else, and the only place he could find was his own house.

It wouldn't be / hadn't been very comfortable there was no other choice. By the end of the week he started / had started lessons in his living room. It became a popular idea, and before long nearly all the teachers began / were going to begin to follow his example. By the time a new school was built, the students didn't miss / hadn't missed a single lesson and were able to continue their studies without any problem. Mr White showed / would show that young people's education comes before personal comfort, and he has now become a local hero.

IV. Complete with the past simple, the past perfect simple or the past perfect progressive of the verbs in brackets.

WHAT GENERATION GAP

I _____ (READ) an article in the newspaper the other day about how the generation gap is getting wider, but I totally disagree. Yesterday, when I _____ (TURN) on my computer, I was surprised to see that my seventy-five-year-old grandfather _____ (SEND) me an e-mail. It was quite a surprise because I _____ (MEAN) to teach him how to set up an account for ages but I _____ (BE) too busy to get round to it. I was so amazed that I _____ (RING) him up to tell him.

He said that he _____ (ASK) others for help for too long and that he _____ (DECIDE) to take the matter into his own hands. He _____ (PLAY) around with my brother's computer one morning when he _____ (DISCOVER) a video explaining how to set up an e-mail account. Within an hour he _____ (WORK) out exactly what to do. By the end of the week he _____ (JOIN) a social media site, too, and was chatting with old friends in Australia. It seems like anything that makes life easier is well-received by all ages.
