

Sequence the story. Write a number into the box according to the order of the story.

Write a short story by using, "First, next, then, later, after that, finally"

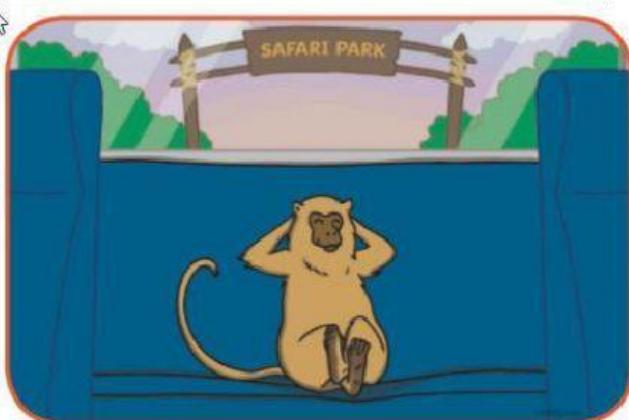

First, the children are on a bus to the safari park.

Next, the children are on the bus. A monkey is hanging from a branch outside the window.

Then, the monkey is inside the bus, sitting on a blue seat.

Later, the monkey is still inside the bus, sitting on a blue seat.

Finally, the monkey is outside the bus, sitting on a rock.

After that, the children are still looking out the window at the monkey.