

Telling a story in the past using irregular verbs : Choose one of the verbs from the lists, translate them into English and choose the right form (BV or V-ing/Preterit/Participe passé) for each blank. Type in your answers.

VERBS IN GREEN ARE NOT IN THE LIST FROM YOUR TEXTBOOK

(Special thanks to Yvan Baptiste for this story)

What a strange day ! (continued but harder...)

The rain had stopped now. I _____ some time near the lions, then I stopped at a shop which _____ magazines and I _____ a newspaper. I then walked to St James's Park. Some people were _____ horses, others were _____ bikes. Some children were playing football near the water: no respect for the ducks! Besides, ball games were strictly _____. One of the boys _____ the ball, it _____ an American tourist who actually _____ into the water. He _____ himself and nearly _____ a leg. The man's camera _____ into the water and some fool _____ across the pond to pick it up.

acheter - casser - tomber - interdire - frapper - blesser - couler - tirer - vendre - passer du temps - nager - être sur (le dos de)

The man _____ from the water, he _____ his temper. He _____ at the boys, _____ insults at them, saying this would never happen in Central Park, his favourite park at home. It soon _____ clear that he needed assistance. So I _____ out my mobile and _____ for an ambulance. They _____ here ten minutes later: one nurse _____ a stretcher, they _____ the man on his back. The other nurse _____ over and _____ the man's hand. He _____ alright, just shocked. I _____ that incident _____ the boys a lesson: they would never _____ that day!

devenir - se pencher - parier - apporter - tenir - poser à plat - perdre - sonner/téléphoner - se lever - jurer - enseigner - jeter - prendre - oublier - être - être

I _____ a voice beside me shout "They _____! They _____!" Apparently, England's rugby team had just _____ France. They really _____ hard for that victory. A band of supporters _____ 'God save the Queen'. I just couldn't _____ the noise, so I followed a path which _____ to a quieter place in the park, to _____ from all this commotion. As I _____ a glance behind me, what _____ me was the contrast between the loud rugby fans and the quiet tourists who didn't really _____ what was going on.

supporter - battre - lancer - se battre - entendre - mener - chanter - frapper - se retirer - gagner - gagner - comprendre

The wind was _____ harder now. I was _____. I decided to go home, so I _____ a taxi. Once at home, I opened the door and _____ myself in. I _____ my coat by the door, _____ some wood in the fireplace, _____ up an old newspaper -the main article was _____ with holidays and sun-_____, how appropriate!- and _____ a big fire but I _____ myself with a match. I _____ alone: the dog had _____, the cat was _____ somewhere. After a light dinner, I _____ the alarm-clock for 7 and _____ to bed to _____ about Central Park.

souffler - brûler - attraper - distribuer (= parler de) - rêver - geler - aller - se cacher - pendre/accrocher - laisser/permittre - allumer - chercher/rechercher - fixer (=régler) - mettre - déchirer - aller - être