Most divorces due to household chores

Fill in the gaps using the words below the text. There are six extra words that you do not need to use.

Most people believe that the biggest (1) _____for divorce are either infidelity or arguments over money. However, a new report from British law firm Gateley suggests (2) _____. According to its analysis of 350 divorce cases, seven out of ten divorces occur because of disputes (3) _____ who does what household chores. Twenty per cent of divorces are due to unfaithfulness. Gateley says (4) _____ are the days when the wife did all the cooking and cleaning. Dual income marriages now mean (5)_____responsibilities for vacuuming, doing the dishes and tidying. Gateley advised couples to discuss who does what before walking down the (6) _____. A spokeswoman said that, "going into a marriage blind (7) _____be a recipe for disaster".

(8) _____, a study in Norway suggests that couples who share household chores are more (9) _____ to split up. Thomas Hansen, co-author of the report 'Equality in the Home,' said the divorce rate (10) _____ couples who shared housework equally was 50 per cent higher than (11) _____those where women did all the work. Mr Hansen said that in Norway women did most of the housework in 70 per cent of marriages, and were "largely happy" to do (12) _____. An adverse side effect of marital (13) _____ is that many families are now "too poor to split up". The U.K. (14) _____ Relate said that in many middle-income families, couples stay together because they can't (14) _____to divorce. Relate says this results in a "toxic" home environment

Source: breakingnewsenglish.com

ACCOUNTS AFFORD AISLE AMONG BETWEEN CONVERSELY COULD CHARITY DISCORD FOR GONE GROUNDS LIKELY MUST OTHERWISE OVER
PROBABLE SIMILARLY SPLIT SO STAND

LIVEWORKSHEETS