

Primary 3/4

Week 28

The Write Tribe

THEORY TEST

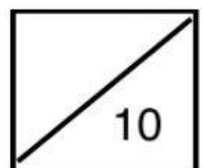

Rewrite the passage to this composition with the correct punctuation. 5 errors

The recess bell rang and everyone made a Beeline to the canteen. I was left all alone in the classroom. Jia Hui carelessly left her brand new iPhone on her table.

A sly smile spread across my face. I grabbed the phone in my hands and threw it to the ground. Its smashed into smithereens. Satisfied, I left for recess.

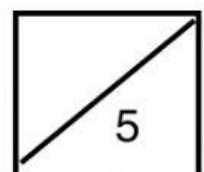

When Jia hui came back, she was deeply saddened. As she tried to stifle her sobs, she asked me "who would do something so cruel?" I felt guilty. Her words pricked my conscience.

"Whoever broke Jia Hui's phone better own up now! or I will check the CCTV camera" miss Rudy warned.

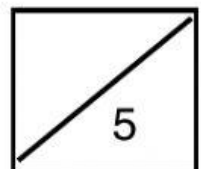

word/phrase	meaning
very noisy
very often
very old
very old-fashioned
very painful

ancient	excruciating	archaic
deafening	frequently

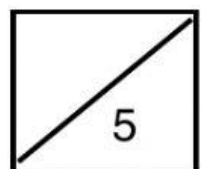

word/phrase	meaning
on top of the world
music to one's ears
bouncing off the walls
head over heels
wept with joy

full of beans / full of energy	wonderful news	very much in love cried with happiness	delighted, extremely happy

word/phrase	meaning
joy to behold
on the edge of my seat bright eyed and bushy-tailed put one's heart and soul into eager beaver

a hardworking person / someone who does more than what is expected of them	wonderful to look at	put a lot of effort into something because you are passionate about it waiting with nervous excitement	full of enthusiasm and energy

word/phrase	meaning
lend a hand
below the belt
feel for
generous to a fault
big-hearted

unnecessarily cruel or unkind	help someone	sympathize with to be so kind to a point you may not take care of your own needs	kind and generous

word/phrase	meaning
leaving me in the lurch treat them like dirt
let us down
I was on my best behaviour behave out of character

behave in an unusual way	disappoint us	treat people very badly behave extremely well or politely	leaving me to deal with a difficult situation

word/phrase	meaning
a selfish streak
as bold as brass
a barrel of laughs
two-faced
crybaby

a fun person or situation	very confident	insincere or hypocritical someone who cries a lot without good reason	a tendency to only care for oneself and not for others

