

5. This diagram represents structures that make up the human ear.

- (a) Write the names of the structures of the diagram labeled P, Q, R and S

P _____
R _____
S _____
T _____

- (b) On the diagram, the structures labeled X are found in the middle ear. What kind of tissue are these structures made of? _____ [1]
- (c) What letter on the diagram is pointing to the structure that contains cartilage? _____ [1]
- (d) Name the structure that connects the ear with the brain. _____ [1]
- (e) What is the function of the part of the diagram labeled R? _____ [1]

- (f) What is the stimulus that causes the ears to respond as sense organs? _____ [1]

(g) What letters on the diagram are pointing to the two parts of the ear that are normally contain a fluid?
_____ [1]

(h) The structure labeled P on the diagram is not directly related to our sense of hearing. What is the function of the structure P?
_____ [1]

(e) The ear is one of the body's sense organs. It is stimulated by sound waves. Name ONE other sense organ of the body and tell what it is stimulated by?

(f) i. Sense organ

ii. Stimulated by
_____ [2]

(f) What important organ of the body is connected to the ears by the auditory nerve
_____ [1]

TOTAL MARKS [14]