

4 STEPS TO JOIN SENTENCES WITH RELATIVE PRONOUNS

WITHOUT STRESSING YOURSELF OUT

1. Identify the "repeated" word!

Careful sometimes is a pronoun what is repeated!!

Chia is a small town. My grandparents live there.

2. What is that second word? It refers to a person? An object? A place?

WHO?

WHICH? / THAT?

WHEN?

WHERE?

WHOSE?

3. Change the second "reference" to the word for the correct relative! Which and who if it is a subject!

Chia is a small town. My grandparents live ~~there~~, where.

4. Place the RELATIVE just behind the word it makes reference.

Chia is a small town where my grandparents live.

1. Combine the sentences with relative clauses.

The woman is sitting at the desk. She is Mr. Winter's secretary.

The woman

I cannot remember the girl. Her name was Mary.

I cannot

Jane is very good at biology. Her mother is a physician.

Jane,

She didn't see the snake. It was lying on the ground.
