

Music is a very important part of many people's lives. What role does it play in your life and can music be a force for good to society as a whole?