

Topic: Many employers consider emotional intelligence and people skills just as important as academic qualifications and job experience. Do you agree? Support your opinion with concrete examples.

