Giving advice (review)

What's the matter?

Food poisoning

what should I do now?

advise

d better

1) Drag and drop to complete the dialogue:

Doctor: Hey sir! Please come on in and lie down.
Patient: Thank you doctor.
Doctor: _____You look a bit pale. What ails you?
Patient: I think I have a _____doctor. My friends and I had dinner in a cheap restaurant yesterday. As soon as I came home the pain grew terrible!
Doctor: Let me see! Where do you feel it? The pain?
Patient: All over my stomach and belly. And I forgot to tell you I vomited twice!
Doctor: You are right. This must be a food poisoning. The food you had yesterday must have been contaminated! You should always be careful when eating out.
Patient: Absolutely right. I will never eat out again. But please,_____ Doctor: Don't worry! It is not serious this time. I _____you to take some rest. You'_____ avoid going out for a few days. Always wash your hands carefully before eating. You also should take some painkillers if you can't tolerate the pain.

2) Watch the audio to answer the questions below:

- Where are the two men?
  a) In a classroom. b) In a cafe.
  b) In a clothes shop .

3) Listen again and drag the phrases and drop them to complete the dialogue:

Do you mind if I sit here? Sorry, no..... I'm cold! Do you mind if I look at it?

is it OK if I open the window? No, please do. No, I don't mind at all!

Adam: Excuse me! Is that seat free?
Michael: Er, yes, it is.
Adam: .....
Michael: .....
Adam: Sorry.... I'll just hand my coat up....Is this your newspaper?
Michael: Yes....
Adam: .....
Michael: .....;
Adam: Good!
Michael: Er, ...
Adam: .....

LIVEWORKSHEETS

4) Drag and drop to fill in the table:

-Do you mind if I borrow your pen?

-No, I don't. Take it.

-Can I open the door?

-Yes, please do.

Asking for Permission	Giving Permission

5) Listen and record:

Your friend: Can I use your phone to call my parents. I am a bit late and they must be worried now.

You: Yes, p…… …o .

You: Teacher! D… …… …… ….. I go to the bathroom?

Teacher: No, I don't. Go but don't get late please.

LIVEWORKSHEETS