► 5:22 LISTEN FOR MAIN IDEAS Listen to the interview with a psychologist. Then listen again and write a description for each of the two personality types the psychologist describes.

What is a "big T" personality?	What is a "small t" personality?

► 5:23 LISTEN FOR SUPPORTING DETAILS Read each summary of some of Franklin's main points. Listen again, and complete each explanation by providing details from the interview.

	Explanation
1 Franklin notes that one cannot simply classify people's personalities as either 100% "big T" or "small t."
2 She clarifies that having a "big T" personality isn't always a positive trait.
3 She argues that even if you are willing to ride on a roller coaster, you don't necessarily have a "big T" personality.

► 5:24 LISTEN TO UNDERSTAND MEANING FROM CONTEXT Listen to each of the following comments from the interview and complete the statements.

- 1 If you are "faint of heart" and "wouldn't dare" to do certain things, you have more of a (big T / small t) personality.
- 2 A person who "takes chances" and chooses to "live on the edge" has more of a (big T / small t) personality.
- 3 If you feel an "adrenaline rush" when you go "right up to the edge," you have more of a (big T / small t) personality.
