

GRAMMAR 4: RELATIVE PRONOUNS

1. Complete the text with who, which, whose or where.

Tony Tetro is a name which is well-known in the USA. That's because it belongs to one of the world's best art forgers. He painted pictures during the seventies and eighties (1) he pretended were genuine. Dali and Chagall are just two of the famous artists (2) work he copied. Tetro made a fortune and lived an extravagant life (3) made the police think that he was a drug dealer. The police arrested him for forgery in 1989 and he was sent to prison, (4) he served a five-year sentence. Tetro still paints today, but he is the only artist in the USA (5) has to stamp his name on the back of every one of his paintings!

2. Choose the correct option

- 1) A thief is a person who / whose steals things.
- 2) That's the road which / where there was a mugging.
- 3) My neighbour is someone which / who always looks suspicious.
- 4) I've got a friend whose / who father is a detective.
- 5) He's in a prison who / where there are lots of criminals.
- 6) Is that one of the false cheques which / whose Abagnale used?

3. Make the sentences into once sentence. Use a relative pronoun.

EXAMPLE: I read an article about internet fraud. I found it fascinating.

I read an article about internet fraud which I found fascinating.

1) James is a store detective. His job is to prevent shoplifting.

.....

2) My aunt is a lawyer. She is well-known in London.

.....

3) There was a lot of evidence. The police used it to find the thief.

.....

4) There's a quiet street behind the bank. Some drug-dealing takes place there.

.....

5) It was a young man in a disguise. He tried to rob the post office.

.....

6) The police interviewed the famous singer. Her dog disappeared last week.

.....

