

In this section you will hear a radio program about Jack Ma, who is the Chairman of Alibaba, a Chinese e-commerce company. Your task is to write the letter of the correct answer into the boxes.

O	Jack Ma is ... Google chairman Eric Schmidt and media mogul Rupert Murdoch. A) richer than B) as rich as C) not as rich as
1.	The reporter says Jack Ma ... A) is a household name for almost everyone. B) didn't found Alibaba all by himself. C) is one of the top twenty richest people in the world.
2.	According to Laura Marcinek, ... A) e-commerce was already a booming business in China when Jack Ma started his company. B) Alibaba is functioning better than Amazon. C) Facebook does not have a real business model.
3.	Jack Ma ... A) was making money while practicing English with tourists. B) easily got into university thanks to his excellent English. C) started teaching in the same city where he had graduated.
4.	Jack Ma ... A) had been interested in computer science ever since high school. B) may have started an internet company because he hadn't found any Chinese results for "beer" on the Internet. C) was able to get by reasonably well with the money his internet company made.
5.	Jack Ma ... A) borrowed the money he needed for another company from his best friend. B) stopped teaching in 1999. C) started Alibaba because of the success he had achieved with China Pages.
6.	Jack Ma ... A) is a shy person who hates being in the center of attention. B) teaches kung fu to some of his employees. C) bought a huge apartment on top of a building.

(<http://finance.yahoo.com/>)