

Making Yes or No Questions

Change the statements to questions. Use TO BE (am, is, are) with present progressive and use TO DO (do, does) with simple present.

Is the man buying groceries? - Present progressive (once, right now)

Does the man buy groceries every week? - simple present (ongoing, happens over and over, multiple times)

1. He is running ten miles right now.
2. They are cooking dinner now.
3. My teacher is traveling today.
4. We are studying English right now.
5. She studies math on the weekends.
6. The students zoom with their teacher on Mondays and Wednesdays
7. Doctors treat patients every day.
8. The college offers many courses in English.
