

Directions: Click on the appositive in each sentence below. Remember, appositives describe or identify the noun.

1. An unusually long movie, "Titanic," received high praise.
2. The tiny dog, a ferocious growler, frightened the neighbors.
3. A very rich dessert, peanut butter pie, is not everyone's favorite dish.
4. Jack's dog, a male dalmatian, has won many ribbons.
5. Our family enjoyed our week in Florida, our favorite vacation spot.
6. The fireman, a hero to the bystanders, bravely carried the baby from the fire.

Directions: Combine sentences A and B to form an appositive.

Ex: A. James is proposing new changes.
B. He is our class president.

Answer:

James, our class president, is proposing new changes.

7. A. The California coastline is the longest of all the states.
B. The California coastline is a national treasure.
8. A. Thomas Jefferson was from Virginia.
B. He was the third president.
9. A. My father is a dentist.
B. He has perfect teeth.
10. A. The package came in the mail.
B. It was a brown box.