

1. Match the sentences in present tenses to their usage:

PRESENT CONTINUOUS	It's raining at the moment.	future arrangements
	(on holiday) We're staying at a luxurious hotel by the sea.	annoying habits
	Tomorrow at 2p.m. I'm having lunch with my boss.	trends, talking about changes
	He's always leaving his clothes all over the floor.	daily routines
	Nowadays more and more people are choosing cars to commute to work.	action at the moment of speaking
PRESENT SIMPLE	I love chocolate.	laws of nature, general truths
	The shop opens at 10 a.m.	situations started in the past and continuing up till now
	Sarah gets up at 8 every day.	describing the long action which has just finished and is the reason for the present state
	I usually spend my holidays in the mountains.	recent actions with present result
	When you heat ice, it melts.	likes and dislikes
	The soup tastes delicious.	telling stories and narrating, sport commentaries
	They live in a block of flats.	schedules, timetables
	It is a beautiful morning. Anna wakes up and sees a little bird.	permanent states
PRESENT PERFECT	We've known each other since primary school.	habits
	Sue's cut her hair. (She looks younger now.)	temporary action
	We've moved to LA./ It's the first time I've seen the Queen.	Personal experiences, life changes
PRESENT PERFECT CONTINUOUS	I've been already learning for 5 hours.	emphasising the duration of an action started in the past and continuing up till now or just finished
	I've been studying all night. I'm so tired.	stative verbs