If you saw the following. What would be the right thing to do?

Mom is super mom. She is fine. I can go play.

Mom looks tired! Let me help with the baby or groceries!

Mom look angry. I should help with the chores, then watch my show.

Mom looks angry. Hope she does not yell at me. My show is starting.

Dad lost his job. I am sure he will get another one soon.

Dad lost his job. He must be worried. I should give him a hug.

The new girl dresses differently. Laugh at her.

The new girl must be feeling alone. I will talk to her and become her friend.

He must be in pain! I will go cheer him up while adult cleans his cut.

I don't know him, so I can't help him.

I will get upset that the toy is broken too and yell at the little boy.

The bog boy is angry and little boy is sad. I will help the boy to calm down and get him another toy for both of them to play with. I will try to cheer them both up

Her grandma died. She must be so sad. I will give her a napkin and invite her to eat a sandwich with me.

Her grandma died. She will be so sad. I am sure she will stop crying soon.
