

Types of Reactions

Which type of chemical reaction is each of these? Use these terms:

Synthesis Decomposition Single Displacement Double Displacement Combustion

j. Two or more substances form a new substance _____

k. One substance breaks down into two or more simpler substances _____

l. One element replaces another element in a compound _____

m. Two compounds are combined and switch partners _____

n. Burning results in water and carbon dioxide _____

