

Read the text on the class's blog in order to do the following activities:

I Answer the following questions (you do not need to make sentences):

- a) What type of document is it?
- b) Who wrote it, and when? (use all the letters of the day and month in your answer)
- c) Who is the main focus of this text?
- d) What is the topic?

II True or false?

- a) Tricia Griffith frightened a stranger at a mall when she was 15.
- b) After this experience, she started websleuths.com in 1999.
- c) JonBénet Ramsey was a six-year-old child beauty queen murdered by Ted Bundy.
- d) JonBénet Ramsey's murder led to the creation of websleuths.com
- e) Tricia Griffith is the owner of websleuths.com

III Fill in the blanks with words from our lesson:

Websleuths.com is a website for people who want to _____ real life crimes. They are investigators, not real detectives, because they do not work for the police, but their mission is the same: solve the _____ and identify the _____. The website allows its members to connect and collaborate to _____ true cases. People bounce around theories and share _____, but there must be no rumours, only facts and _____. Websleuths members sometimes help the police with their _____, and they have solved many _____. [do not use the word "mysteries" in the last box]

IV - Use this box to give information about the members of websleuths.com (this time you need to write sentences ;-):

Mrs J.