UNUSUAL BOOKSHOPS

A.	Laney's Bookshop This gorgeous bookshop can be found in an old church. It's a large second-hand bookshop with a café and an open fireplace. Although the books sold there have no smell of fresh print, the store offers over 100,000 titles to choose from – some of them quite rare. A book-swapping shelf located in the store lets readers exchange books they no longer need for books other readers have left there.

B.	Book Hall This bookshop is a paradise for book lovers. Inside, it looks like a long street packed with both second-hand and new books at attractive prices. It also has small art galleries and cafés. Whether you are looking for a book or just having a cup of hot tea, you can enjoy the wonderful sight of the nearby mountains through the Book Hall's huge windows.
----	--

C.	City Story The owners of this bookshop believe that "a journey is best remembered by a book", so they sell famous books as souvenirs from their city. What's more, the bookstore is actually in a beautiful blue van parked in one of the city's narrow streets. That is why they don't need to spend a lot of money on renting a place for their bookshop and their prices for both new and used books are very attractive.
