

December 17

Dear aunt Sharon,

How are you? I'm fine and so is the rest of the family. It's nearly Christmas time and we'd like you, uncle Fred and baby Charles to come and spend Christmas with us. Grandfather is coming too, so we can all spend Christmas Day together. How about it?

We are going to have a guest room ready, so we can put you up on Christmas Eve. That way we can all open our presents together when we wake up on Christmas morning.

Later on, we are going to have Christmas lunch. Of course, we're going to have a turkey and vegetables and guess what! Mum's going to make a traditional plum pudding! I love plum pudding!

After lunch we are going to gather round the fireplace and play board games. We're going to try some new games this year. It will be a great day! We really want you to come. After all, you're only a few hours away!

We'll be waiting for your reply.

Harry

Are these sentences true T or false F?

1. Harry's family are inviting their relatives for Christmas Day only.
2. Harry's favourite part of Christmas lunch is the dessert.
3. On Christmas Day they're all going to have lunch before playing board games.
4. Harry's family know for sure that all their relatives are going to spend Christmas with them.
5. Harry's aunt and uncle live very far away.