

Convention

Veto

Nominee

Grassroots

Ballot box

Polling station

Block vote

Debate

President

Voter

Hold in

Run

someone who has been nominated for something the ordinary people in a society or an organization, especially a political party

A way of voting in which your vote represents other members of your

The chief executive of a republic

a large meeting for a political party an official power or right to refuse to accept or allow something a box into which people put their voting slips when voting

a place where people go to vote in an election

To lessen the intensity of

A formal discussion of the merits of something

To campaign to stand for a political position

A citizen who has a legal right to vote