

THURSDAY, MAY 13TH

ANIMALS IN DANGER

Listen and tick the chart.

	ARGENTINA	USA	BRAZIL	CHINA	AFRICA	HERBIVORES	CARNIVORES
zebras					✓	✓
yaguaretés
eagles
pandas
vicuñas

READING

1

Read these school reports.

Animals in Danger

Indian Tiger

My report is about the Indian tiger. It lives in the forest in India. It is a carnivore. It is in danger because it is hunted for its beautiful fur and because of deforestation.

by Malik

Giant Panda

Pandas live in China and eat bamboo. They are black and white.

There are only 1,000 giant pandas in the world. They are in danger because their habitat is being destroyed.

by Jordyn

Scarlet Macaw

My report is about the scarlet macaw. It lives in South America. It eats fish, tropical fruit, seeds and insects. It is bright red with blue and yellow wings and it has a very long beak.

It is hunted because of its colourful feathers.

by Alex

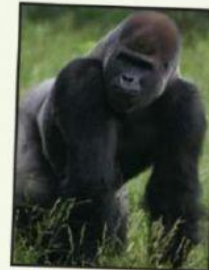

Gorilla

The gorilla lives in the mountains in Africa.

It is a herbivore. It has black fur. It is shy and gentle.

It is in danger because of deforestation.

by Asa

Koala

Koalas live in Australia. They eat eucalyptus leaves. Koalas have strong feet and soft fur. They are in danger because their habitat is being destroyed.

by Liz

Bald Eagle

My report is about bald eagles.

They live in North America. They eat fish, mice, ducks and snakes.

They have brown and white feathers. They are in danger because their habitat is being destroyed.

by Josh

PRACTICE

1a

Write T (True) or F (False).

- a. Indian tigers live in Africa. ☐
- b. Pandas are black and brown. ☐
- c. Indian tigers eat meat. ☐
- d. Gorillas are in danger because of deforestation. ☐

- e. Scarlet macaws live in North America. ☐
- f. Macaws have small beaks. ☐
- g. The koala has strong feet. ☐
- h. Bald eagles eat bamboo. ☐