

This is what you wrote about how you usually celebrate Eid.

I <sup>come</sup> came from Bangladesh. Bangladesh is a muslim country. Every year we <sup>are</sup> celebrate two Eid, one is Eidul-fitor other is Eidul-Atha. we <sup>are</sup> celebrate Eidul-fitor after one month of fasting. on Eid day we cook delicious food and decorated all house. Eid day I visit my relatives house and enjoyed that.

1. Good spelling.
2. Good punctuation for proper nouns (Eid, Bangladesh)
3. This celebration happens every year so use the present simple not the past simple for all routines.
4. Good, neat handwriting.

ROHIMA Akther
29/4/21

➤ New eTrackr personal target to improve adjectives and plurals, a writing activity.

I would like you to type some sentences about this year's Eid celebration at your house. Use the past simple tense for example: I celebrated and some use some really nice adjectives. Try to make 2 paragraphs and there should be 3 or 4 sentences in one paragraph. Start this writing when Eid finished.

In class you will read this to someone confidently, slowly and clearly.