

SKILLS and JOBS

Instructions: Read about these people and the skills they have. What job is good for them?

1. Gregory is looking for a new job. He has many skills. He can speak two languages. He can learn new skills fast. He can drive a car and a small truck. He can lift heavy things. He can read a map. What job is good for him? _____ or _____

2. Nina is a homemaker, but she wants to find a new job. She has many skills. She can manage her time. She can organize well. She can take care of children. She can clean well. She can cook. She can speak two languages. What job is good for her?

_____ or _____

3. Ashley needs a part-time job. She has many skills. She can be polite. She can be on time. She can work well with other people. She can use a computer. She can type. She can speak good English. She can take messages. She can give customers good service. What job is good for her? _____ or _____

4. Richard is looking for a job. He has many skills. He can manage his time. He can work under pressure. He can work well in a team. He can be polite. He can carry heavy things. He can speak English. He can work any time of day or night. What job is good for him?

_____ or _____

5. Ella is new in this country. She doesn't speak very much English. In her country, she didn't work. She stayed home with her 4 children. She has many skills. She is very organized. She can clean very well. She can cook. She can supervise kids. She can take care of her house. She can take care of her garden. She can learn fast. She can work hard. What job is good for her?

_____ or _____