

1- Correct the sentences:

Did he went to school yesterday?

.....

Why do you go early yesterday?

.....

Where did you learnt English?

.....

We didn't played football Saturday morning.

.....

They phone you last night.

.....

2- Complete the sentences with the correct form:

On Sunday, I (cook) with my parents for dinner.

They (not finish) my homework on time yesterday.

We (meet) with our friends the last weekened.

I (not like) meat when I was young.

My grandparents (know) The Pope Juan Pablo II.

3- Read the notes and complete the sentences with there was, there were, there wasn't, there weren't.

THE NEW YORK CITY MARATHON

FIRST NYC MARATHON (1970)- 127 people running.

2012- no NYC marathon because of Superstorm Sandy.

2013 NYC Marathon- over 50,000 runners.

2013- winner of men's race- Geoffrey Mutai (Kenya), winner of women's race Priscah Jeptoo (Kenya).

1..... a marathon in New York City in 1970.

2 In 1970 50,000 people running in the NYC marathon.

3 127 runners in 1970.

4 a marathon in New York City in 2012.

5 a marathon in New York City in 2013

- 6 over 50,000 runners in 2013.
- 7 In 2013 two winners from Kenya.
- 8 a British winner in the 2013 NYC marathon.

4- Fill the gaps with WAS, WERE, WASN'T, WEREN'T.

PETER: Where you last summer, Sally? In Italy?

SALLY: No, I in Italy. I in London.

PETER: you alone?

SALLY: No, I I with my parents. I at the Bridge Hotel.

PETER: It's a nice hotel! It nice?

SALLY: It lovely. There golf court, there two swimming pools and there A very good restaurant.

READING COMPREHENSION

Archaeologists identify the mummy of a lost Egyptian queen

By Melissa Kong

Egyptian archaeologists announced on Wednesday that they have identified a mummy discovered in 1903 as that of Queen Hatshepsut (hat-shep-soot), Egypt's most powerful female pharaoh. The mummy was originally found in the Valley of the Kings, a sacred burial site for kings and powerful nobles located on the west bank of the Nile River in Egypt. Although the mummy was discovered more than a century ago, it remained in a tomb until this past spring, when it was brought to the Cairo Museum for testing.

A Powerful Ruler's Legacy

Queen Hatshepsut was the only woman to rule ancient Egypt while the kingdom was at the height of its wealth and power, from about 1502 to 1482 B.C. Of all the female pharaohs—including Cleopatra and Nefertiti—Hatshepsut's reign was the longest and most successful. While in power, she established trade routes and built hundreds of monuments and temples throughout Egypt. Despite her prosperous reign, both her mummy and her legacy were virtually erased from Egyptian history. Many historians believe that Tuthmose III, Hatshepsut's stepson, destroyed records and monuments bearing her name. It may have been his revenge. It is believed that she stole the throne from him. Finding the mummy of this powerful queen may provide details about an important part of Egyptian history.

From EOI Comunidad de Aragon

WRITE TRUE OR FALSE

1. The mummy was found in Egypt on Wednesday.....
2. Hatshepsut's mummy was found near the River Nile.....
3. The mummy has been in a museum since it was discovered.....
4. She was the only queen of Egypt.....

5. She built all her temples in the Valley of the Kings.....
6. Historians don't know many things about her.....
7. Tuthmose III killed the queen.....

LISTENING

1 Listen to a student talking to an athlete for the school newspaper. Are these statements True (T) or False (F)?

- 1 Patricia is a student at the school.
- 2 She didn't like sports when she was at school.
- 3 She was 16 when she started running in competitions.
- 4 Patricia doesn't think she's a fast runner.
- 5 She doesn't often feel tired after a race.

2 Listen to a student talking to an athlete for the school newspaper and complete the notes with one word or number in each gap.

Patricia left school: (1).....years ago

Sports at her school: gymnastics and (2).....

Typical age for first competition: 13 or (3).....

Patricia's qualities: can run a long way / doesn't get (4).....

Patricia's feelings about running: it's (5).....and often outdoors.

