

1. Hi, Jess. Can you put me  to Marcia in HR, please? Thank you.
2. Yeah, but it had been going  for a while, and he just wasn't pulling his weight anymore.
3. What I mean is, someone who knows we're in a rapidly changing market, and they can use it  our advantage.
4. Not necessarily a native speaker, but they must be very good  English.
5. So, I've whittled  the serious candidates to a shortlist of 12 people.
6. Well, I think we've got some pretty strong candidates. Two  particular.
7. I want to hear specific details  when they've solved problems.
8. Good. Well, we're very excited  meeting you.
9. Can you give us an example of when you had to deal  a particularly difficult managee?
10. The contract was full of technicalities and the client was very picky! But I still pulled it .
