STUDY 1 - PRESENTATION - PAST PERFECT

LET'S TALK ABOUT ACTIVITIES THAT HAPPENED IN THE PAST BEFORE ANOTHER ACTION IN THE PAST.

Past Perfect Tense

The past perfect, also called the pluperfect, is a verb tense used to talk about actions that were completed before some point in the past.

We were shocked to discover that someone had graffitied "Tootles was here" on our front door.

We were relieved that Tootles had used washable paint.

The past perfect tense is for talking about something that happened before something else. Imagine waking up one morning and stepping outside to grab the newspaper. On your way back in, you notice a mysterious message scrawled across your front door: Tootles was here. When you're telling this story to your friends later, how would you describe this moment? You might say something like:

I turned back to the house and saw that someone named Tootles had defaced my front door!

In addition to feeling indignant on your behalf, your friends will also be able to understand that Tootles graffitied the door at some point in the past before the moment this morning when you saw his handiwork, because you used the past perfect tense to describe the misdeed.

The Past Perfect Formula

Person + had + [past participle] + complement

When to Use the Past Perfect

So what's the difference between past perfect and simple past? When you're talking about some point in the past and want to reference an event that happened even earlier, using the past perfect allows you to convey the sequence of the events. It's also clearer and more specific. Consider the difference between these two sentences:

- We were relieved that Tootles used washable paint.
- We were relieved that Tootles had used washable paint.

It's a subtle difference, but the first sentence doesn't tie Tootles's act of using washable paint to any particular moment in time; readers might interpret it as "We were relieved that Tootles was in the habit of using washable paint." In the second sentence, the past perfect makes it clear that you're talking about a specific instance of using washable paint.

Activity:

- Respond these questions about the explanation. Use one word.

1. What is the other name for the past participle? _____.
2. This tense is used to talk about actions that happened _____ another action in the past.
3. What happened first? Click the correct option. ☐ The person turned back to the house ☐ Tootles graffitied the front door
4. What is the auxiliary we use for the past perfect? _____
5. The main verb to express ideas using this tense should be in the form of the _____
6. The past perfect makes it clear that you're talking about a _____ instance in the past before another event.

STUDY 2 - LET'S CHECK IT OUT!

- Read the following text. Identify the information shared before. Look up the unknown words and respond the questions.

One of those days

Hi, have you ever had one of those days when everything seemed to go wrong? I'm sure you have, I know I have. I remember one particular day, I'd been invited to a party and there was someone going who I'd never met but I really wanted to meet, so I was quite excited about going to this party, and I maybe spent too long getting ready and I was a bit late when I was leaving the house, but not too late.

But then I looked down and saw I had a hole in my tights! So I had to go back inside, change my tights, come out again, so I was getting a little bit late for the party, but not too bad. I got in my car, started driving, about half way to the party my car stopped. I couldn't understand what was the matter until I looked at the petrol gauge: it had run out of petrol! Why? Because I'd lent my car to my son the day before and he'd used the petrol and he hadn't filled the car up! So I thought I'd ring the AA. I looked in my handbag to find my mobile phone, but I couldn't find it.

Why? Because I'd left it next to my bed charging. So even though it was pouring with rain, I had to get out of my car, in my party clothes, walk to the petrol station and come back with petrol. By which time I was nearly 2 hours late. So, I was so flustered about being late, I started to drive and I just took a wrong turn and I ended up on this one-way system, totally lost, driving round and round for at least 45 minutes before I managed to get my bearings. So finally, I arrived at the party over 3 hours late and when I arrived the person I wanted to meet had just left, all the food had gone, and my host was horribly drunk. I was so disappointed that I just turned around and left and went back home. Have you ever had a terrible day like that, when everything went wrong? If you have, write and tell us about it.

Respond the following questions keeping in mind the text.

 - b. On the floor
 - c. Next to her bed, charging up with electricity.
5. How late was she for the party?
 - a. 45 minutes
 - b. More than 3 hours
 - c. About 2 hours
6. When she finally arrived at the party, where was the person she wanted to meet?
 - a. He had just gone
 - b. He was eating all the food
 - c. He had just arrived too.
