

Name: _____

Class: _____ Date: _____

▶▶1 Complete the sentences with some, any or no.

- a Be polite and respectful, Dan. _____ nice actions can provoke positive reactions.
- b I had _____ idea of how to get to the art museum. Then Denise helped me.
- c The students saw _____ animals at the zoo yesterday. They learned that they have to protect their habitats.
- d I had _____ friends in Brazil, then I met Lucas. He's a great friend!
- e Tom doesn't have _____ money. What about offering him a job?
- f You have _____ time to watch TV, Larry. You are late!

▶▶2 Check the correct sentence in each pair.

- a 1 There is anything you can't forget: treat others the way you want to be treated.
2 There is something you can't forget: treat others the way you want to be treated.
- b 1 Can anybody explain the difference between "library" and "bookstore"?
2 Can nobody explain the difference between "library" and "bookstore"?
- c 1 I don't like this restaurant. Can we go nothing else?
2 I don't like this restaurant. Can we go somewhere else?
- d 1 When I arrived home, everybody was there to celebrate my birthday.
2 When I arrived home, anywhere was there to celebrate my birthday.
- e 1 I was writing my report when everything knocked on the door.
2 I was writing my report when someone knocked on the door.

▶▶3 Place the words from the box in the correct column.

anybody anything anywhere everybody everyone everything everywhere
no one nobody nothing nowhere somebody someone something somewhere

People	Places	Things

▶▶4 Complete the dialogue between Amanda and David. Use anyone, anything, everything, nothing and somewhere.

Amanda David, I have to write a school report about the Laws of Physics. Do you know _____ that could help me? I couldn't find _____ helpful in the school library.

David Oh, Amanda, I'm sorry. I know _____ about Physics, but Stephanie knows about it. I'm sure she can write the school report for you. Why don't you give her a call?

Amanda Write the school report for me? I would never ask _____ to do my schoolwork! This is cheating and it's wrong!

David Sorry, Amanda. Let's look for my brother, Vincent. He is good at Physics. He is _____ around here.

Amanda Fine, but no more stupid ideas, right?

▶▶5 Read the dialogue in activity 4 again and write T (true) or F (false). Then correct the false statements.

a David is an expert in the Laws of Physics.

b Amanda will ask Stephanie to help her with her school report.

c David thinks that his brother can help Amanda.

d Amanda tried to find something about the Laws of Physics on the internet.

e David misunderstood Amanda's intentions.

f Vincent is far from them.
