

During the 1200s b.c, pharaohs fought for more territory, increased Egypt's trade, and built large _____ and _____ _____ was very successful at acquiring more land, including Canaan and Syria.

He had many temples built throughout Egypt, including the temple at _____.

After his death, Egypt lost power and land until it was conquered—first by _____, then _____, and then by the _____ from Mesopotamia."

"During the _____, Amenhotep IV and Tutankhamen ruled as pharaohs.

Amenhotep instituted a religion based on the worship of _____, the _____ god; however, most Egyptians rejected the new religion.

_____ (also known as Akhenaton) died, his son 10-year-old _____ became pharaoh.

His tomb of Tutankhamen (King Tut) was discovered in 1922 by British archaeologist _____

"

phew Thutmose III became pharaoh and expanded Egyptian control."