VOCABULARY

_____: a specific location in space - it does not have a measurable length, width, or height.

●

_____: a collection of points that extend forever (indefinitely) in opposite directions. It has no endpoints.
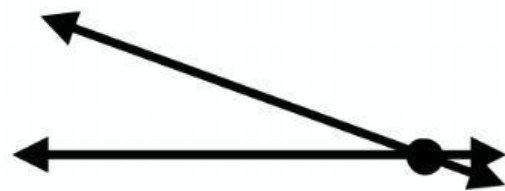

⟷

_____: a specific section of a line, it has two endpoints that include all the part of the line between those two endpoints.

⟷

_____:: a specific section of a line that has one endpoint and extends forever (indefinitely) in one direction

⟷

_____: two rays joined at a single endpoint