

WEEKEND EDITION

- Est. 20 A.D. -

Rome's WEEKEND NEWS!

Aug. / 31 / 79

laden - considerable - volcanic - ash - relics - agony - pumice - alarmed - debris

Horrible moments were lived in Pompeii some days ago. Sadly, many people perished in the eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

"A horrible earthquake was felt in the morning", a survivor recalled. "We left as soon as a big cloud of

_____ could be seen coming out of the volcano. Some _____ stones fell on top of houses and people. My kid was badly hurt!"

Unfortunately, not everyone was so lucky. Others couldn't just leave their belongings and family _____ behind. While others were _____ and scared, others said they were exaggerating and decided to stay behind.

"I told my neighbor to come with me!" a man lamented. "We lost a _____ amount of riches, but at least we are alive. I feel sorry for my friend."

Nobody imagined this could happen. Now, survivors will go back and look among the _____ for their belongings. However, _____ material is still falling, so it's not safe to approach the area yet.

Our fellow citizens need us in this tragic moment. Our hearts are _____ with sadness and all we can do right now is share their _____