

Practice Exercises

A Choose the correct verb form. Write 1 or 2 to choose the correct option at the end of each sentence

- Nowadays cell phones get / are getting smaller and more powerful.
- The Internet starts / is starting to influence our social relationships.
- Wireless technology provides / is providing us many opportunities to study and learn.
- In the past, people were communicating / communicated by letter or phone.
- Twenty years ago, people didn't take / didn't use to take pictures all the time.
- Cell phones enabled / have enabled us to stay in constant contact with each other.
- Because of the Internet, people have communicated / have been communicating more than before.
- Before the Internet, no one had / has ever tried to create one-to-one marketing tools.
- By the year 2050, everyone in the world will / is going to have a cell phone.
- In 20 years' time, students will stop / will have stopped using libraries.

DICTIONARY SKILLS

POWERED BY COBUILD

Use your dictionary to review the correct simple past and past participle forms of irregular verbs.

B Complete the sentences with your own ideas.

- Many people use the Internet to _____.
- Many children are learning how to _____ by using the Internet.
- The Internet is bringing people closer together because _____.
- In the past, people used to _____, but now they _____.
- People in remote countries didn't _____ but now they _____.
- The Internet has changed the way we _____.
- In the future, people will use the Internet to _____.
- By the time they are adults, children of today will have forgotten about _____.

C Each of these sentences contains errors in verb forms. Circle and correct the errors. More than one option may be possible.

- In 20 years' time electrical equipment isn't need cables.
- When I started work 25 years ago, nobody having a computer on his or her desk.
- I've noticed that people who commute by train to work often worked on the train.
- Classrooms now having interactive whiteboards, so teachers can access the Internet while they were teaching.
- The government is implemented a new policy for the use of technology in education.
- Due to the budget cuts, the university has had 10% less to spend on technology next year.
- At the beginning of the last century, most people hadn't had the opportunity to go to university.
- Many people are considering the Internet as the most significant invention of all time.