It's not right that bankers get paid more. Doctors are really (5) _____ and very kind. They never seem to panic or get (6) _____. Every time I've seen a doctor, he or she has always made me (7) _____ better – not just because of their treatment, but also because of their kindness. It must be (8) _____ being a doctor and knowing all kinds of stuff about the human body. It would be pretty (9) _____ being a doctor because then you'd know what was (10) _____ with your own body.

C: There are five mistakes. Listen and correct them. (Twice)

When would society be like without the police? They make a very valuable job. Without them, our society would be less safe. The police are the people we call when we are in danger or something bad has come. Even people who say they don't like the police will shout them for help. I think being a police officer is an interesting but risky job. Police officers must see lots of strange things every day. I guess there is never a boring day in a police officer's family. I wanted to be a police officer once but decided it would be too dangerous. I didn't want to be in the middle of a riot or chase people with cars. I think we must respect the police because they do a difficult job. It seems as though their job is getting more difficult.
