

The science of surfaces

1. You are going to hear a documentary about how scientists copy nature to create new products. Listen to the beginning of the documentary and answer:
 - Why do you think scientists are interested in shark skin?
 - What do you think they can learn from them?

